Honors and Awards:

Michiko Aoki was appointed Visiting Scholar at Harvard Law School's program of East Asian Legal Studies for the second year in a row. This honor reflects Professor Aoki's groundbreaking work in the study of early Japanese culture, in which law and folklore are often intertwined and must be separated by scholars.

Barbara Barry won second place in the annual nationwide composition competition on scholarly opera research for her paper, "Inversional Symmetry in The Magic Flute."

Paul Burke was elected President of the Vergilian Society, an international classical association headquartered west of Naples, Italy.

Thomas Del Prete was elected President of the International Thomas Merton Society. The Society promotes an understanding and appreciation of the multifaceted character of Thomas Merton and encourages study and research that will enhance knowledge of his unique contributions to the literature of spirituality and to American literature and religious life.

Linda Dusman was one of five candidates selected internationally to be an artist-in-residence at Harvestworks Digital Art in New York for 1996. While there, she completed “The Voice in Rama,” a sonic-installation piece that was installed at the International Computer Music Conference in Hong Kong, the Pierogi 2000 in Brooklyn, and the University Gallery at Clark.

Everett Fox was appointed as the first Allen M. Glick Professor of Judaic and Biblical Studies

Susan Hanson was awarded the 1996 University Senior Faculty Fellowship, presented to an outstanding senior faculty member who personifies the Clark ideal of excellence in teaching and excellence in research, scholarship, or creative work.

John Kennison is the recipient of the first George H. Pride Distinguished Teaching Award, presented in recognition of distinguished teaching at Clark University over a sustained period of time.

Mark Miller was awarded the 1996 Oliver and Dorothy Hayden Junior Faculty Fellowship, presented to an outstanding junior faculty member who personifies the Clark ideal of excellence in teaching and in research, scholarship, or creative work.

Natalia Sternberg was presented with the Thomas Jefferson Award for Excellence for her ongoing support and contribution to the staff and children of the Goddard School of Science and Technology.

David Thurlow was selected as Teacher of the Year by the graduating class of 1996.

B.L. Turner II was appointed as the first Higgins Chair of Environment and Society.

B.L. Turner II was awarded the Centenary Medal for Outstanding Achievement in Geographic Research, by the Royal Scottish Geographic Society.
