In addition, students must read daily the New York Times. Current events quizzes will come from the Monday through Friday front sections of the hard copy version of this newspaper. Individual hard copy subscriptions can be purchased from the professor for $49.00 for the semester; digital subscriptions can be purchased directly from the New York Times. More details about the current events quizzes will be discussed in class.

Exams and Grading:	Current Events Quizzes	10%
	2-3 page paper	10%
	First in-class all-essay Midterm	15%
	Second in-class all-essay Midterm	20%
	10-15 page research paper	20%
	Two Hour Final Examination	25%

EXPECTATIONS OF STUDENTS: In order to get their money's worth and have fun with this class, students should want to work hard and think hard. Thus I assume all students will always attend class and complete all reading and paper assignments on time. Since this course transfers as 4 semester hours, students should expect to spend at least 180 hours on this class over the course of the semester, including the time when the class actually meets. Students must contact the professor BEFORE the due date concerning any late papers or problems with exams. Late papers will be penalized 5 points per day. Hard copy papers must be turned in; no emailed papers will be accepted. No electronics in class without permission.

Class participation and attendance will weigh heavily in deciding borderline grades. Make-up exams or quizzes will be given only under extraordinary circumstances. Leave a voicemail or email if you can't reach me in person concerning any problems with the class. I only respond to email during normal business hours. I often respond to voicemails more quickly than emails.
