End on 1. 190a. 1. 190b [woodcut device of Guillaume Le Talleur]. Printed in a curious II “secretary type,” 50 long lines to a page, with sign. [Table 2 11] a-y 8, z, r 6, leaves unnumbered, fine woodcut device of the printer G. Le Talleur [Rouen, Guillaume Le Talleur] for Richard Pynson [London, s. a. c. 1490], folio.
Not Seen by Hain 15092. Contains 190 leaves. Proctor 8768. Wooley Photos. 382. Probably the first book issued by Pynson. Compiled by Statham, who was baron of the Exchequer in the reign of Henry VI, and is evidently the first attempt to methodise the laws as contained in the determinations which had taken place in the reign of Edward I, in the courts of law, and contains many original authorities not extant in the year books of these reigns. It is printed in old Norman
French, with copious original annotations, and bears the imprint of R. Pynson, and is without doubt unique.

49. A-3-4-1
Panzer III, p. 302. With ample margins, printed in double columns, 78 lines to a page.

50. A-2-3-1
Printed in Gothic letters, 20 unnumb. 11. + 11. I -cclxvi + 6 unnumb. 11. (for the Sarmacia) + 11. cclxvii-ccc. Hain 14508; Proctor 2084; Harrisse, 13, Nordenskioeld, p. 9.-- With over 2000 woodcuts by Michael Wolgemuth, the master of Albrecht Duerer. Among the woodcuts are a portrait of Pope Joan, a Dance of Death, a Map of the World and a Map of Europe, besides numerous large views of cities, genealogical trees, heads of many celebrated personages, etc. This work is a remarkably fine specimen of early printing and of early engraving, and Dibdin says, In the Bibliotheca Spenceriana, “If Koburger had printed only this chronicle, he would have done enough to place his name among the most distinguished of his typographical brethren.”

51. A-2-5-2
Venetiis ductu et expensis Nobilis viri D. Octauia / ni Scoti . . . Mccccxxiii per Bonetum Locatellum, folio, leather. Hain 3321, Proctor 5052. Rivoli p. 140. Unknown to Brunet. Sign. A-Ω AA-ΔΔ, 224 unnumbered leaves, double columns, 50 lines to a page. With 24 ornamented vignettes, 24 large initials and a quantity of smaller ones, also two typographical devices, all these pieces are printed in red. Printed on very heavy paper with ample margins, 16 1/2 x 11 1/2.
First edition of the great work on Greek Etymology, printed by Nicolas Vlastos of Creta under Anne, daughter of Lucas Notaras, Grand Duke of Constantinople. The name of Vlastos is on each vignette. One of the first books printed in Greek characters. De Bure styles this edition one of the most splendid that ever issued from the printing press; the editor was the learned Marcus Musurus, Professor of Greek in the University of Padua, and who assisted Aldus in the revision of the Greek MSS. and books. Musurus was appointed Archbishop of Malvasia by Leo X in 1516.

Engraved titles. Lowndes p. 283. This abridgment which is principally founded upon that of Fitzherbert, is digested under a greater number of titles and besides the authorities collected by Fitzherbert. Brooke abridges a great number of readings, which seem to have fallen under his own knowledge as a judge and chief justice of common-pleas, and which are nowhere else extant, except in a small volume selected from this abridgment entitled new cases.-Worrel.

London, Th. Newcomb, 1651, calf.

First edition. Lowndes, p. 595: This poem on its appearance was attacked by the wits of the day to which the author replied. Butler quizzes it in his argument to the first Canto to Huidibras. Hunter says it gives an indication of the popularity of 'Romeo and Juliet' as there are scenes laid in Verona and a character named Tybalt. There seems to be absolutely no proof to support the suggestion of Aubrey that D'Avenant was a natural son of Shakespeare.
